

Module Overview

Module Objectives:

1. Explore and Apply Joyful Literacy Practices: We will reflect on and engage with joyful literacy practices, deepening our understanding of how joy enhances literacy engagement and contributes to a more inclusive, empowering literacy experience. This exploration will also connect joy to broader goals of empowerment, liberation, and social change in literacy instruction.
2. Integrate Culturally and Historically Responsive Pedagogy: We will critically analyze and apply culturally and historically responsive literacy practices, fostering joy and hope in literacy instruction. We will explore how these practices connect to broader goals of empowerment, social justice, and the transformation of traditional literacy norms.
3. Design, Create, and Disrupt Traditional Literacy Practices: We will collaboratively design and present a digital slogan, call to action, or pedagogy that challenges traditional literacy instruction, incorporating cultural responsiveness and sustaining diverse literacy practices. We will reflect on how these practices can disrupt the status quo and transform educational approaches.
4. Engage in Multimodal Reflection and Collaborative Research: Through multimodal activities (visual, audio, written, and gestural), we will reflect on our literacy legacies and collaborate with peers to gain new insights into how culturally sustaining literacy practices can empower learners and reshape literacy instruction. These reflections will foster collective learning and support the development of transformative literacy practices in the classroom.
